UNNES LAW JOURNAL

PAPER REVIEW FORM

Semarang, Indonesia

I. Introduction

The Journal editorial board is interested in publishing wide range of papers from the field of legal studies in the multidisciplinary approach including economic, psychology, social politics, technology, and any related approach. All the papers submitted for publishing must be written in compliance with the Journals Instructions for the authors and are subject to double-blinded review. Only part IV. - The Review of this form will be presented to the author thus not revealing the reviewer's identity. The papers shall be classified as (1) Research Article, (2) Review Article, (3) Book Review, (4) Notes, or (5) Current Commentaries.

II. Guidelines for the reviewers

In reviewing, please pay attention to the following elements:

- (1) It is important to consider and conclude if the paper makes a valuable contribution to existing knowledge and literature in terms of theory development, new data, new methodology etc.
- (2) Is the paper written and submitted according to Journals Instructions for the authors.
- (3) Is the paper written and presented up to publishable standards of the Journal in terms of: whether any concepts have been defined adequately, whether the paper is well structured with coherent argumentation and well integrated, clarity of any statistical data, tables and diagrams, whether the title reflects the contents of the paper accurately, if any part of the paper should be cut out, restructured or further developed.
- (4) Appropriateness of referencing in terms of giving adequate credit to other contributors in the field, major omissions and whether the references are complete and written correctly.
- (5) Reviewers' proposal to the course of action may be to: accept the paper as presented, repeat the review process after changes recommended by reviewer, reject the paper.

III. Classification Guidelines

- (1) A research Article presents the results of original research that were not previously published in either full or preliminary form.
- (2) A review article contains an overall review of recent and current research in a specific area. Papers in this category are surveys in nature that should contain critical references and evaluations. The references must be complete enough to permit a good insight into the subject-matter.
- (3) Book Review presents the comment and critical notes for certain book title
- (4) Notes does not have to be based on original research, but it should contribute to the application of well-known research results and present theoretical conceptions. Commonly notes are the case or judgment analysis in critical approach.
- (5) Current Commentaries contains an overall comment on the previous paper published in this journal
